

MOORE FREE LIBRARY

Book Donation Guidelines

The Friends of the Moore Free Library are pleased to announce that they are now welcoming donations of books and media for their July 13, 2024 sale. Items will be accepted at the Library (23 West Street, Newfane) at the following times only:

Saturday, June 1, 2024, 9 am to noon

Tuesday, June 11, 2024, 4 pm to 6 pm

Donations will be reviewed as you wait, so that you can find another home for the ones we cannot take. We cannot dispose of items for you. Please do not leave donations on the porch of the Library.

We greatly appreciate your donation of books and media. You can help us by following these Donation Guidelines. Donations are accepted with the understanding that they may be discarded, given away, or sold for fundraising.

All items donated must be clean and in good condition.

The Test – would you buy it again yourself?!

We do not accept the following:

- Books that are damaged: missing, stained, or torn pages; dirty, torn, detached covers; broken spines and cracked bindings; chewed
- Books from a smoke-filled atmosphere (fire smoke or cigarette/cigar smoke)
- Books with mold or mildew
Incomplete sets of multi-volume works

There are certain categories that we do not accept

- Blank books and journals
- Bibles, missals, prayer books
- Cassette tapes
- Computer and technical manuals
- Magazines and periodicals
- Readers' Digest Books
- Records
- Reference books (e.g. almanacs, atlases, dictionaries, encyclopedias, quotation books, thesauruses)
- Self-help books
- Textbooks (including "for Dummies")
- Travel, restaurant, hotel guides more than 2 years old
- VCR tapes
- Workbooks, completed (crosswords, sudoku)

Save the date: Our fall sale will take place on Saturday, October 12, during Newfane's Heritage Festival. We will announce donation dates for that sale later in the summer.
